PLURALITIES IN THE STATE

Returns from the Various Gounties Indicate Over 200,000 Plurality for McKinley.

THE TRIUMPH OF QUAY

Present Figures Demonstrate That His Re-election to the United States Senate Is Assured-Anti-Quayites in Montgomery and Chester Counties Suffer Severe Defeat, the Regular Republicans Winning by Large Majorities.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press Philadelphia, Nov. 6 .- Estimates from one half of the countles in Pennsylvania indicate a plurality for Me-Kinley of over 200,000. In this city the fusion of the Democrats with the municipal league cut down the Republican majority but J. Hampton Moore for city treasurer, and Jacob Singer for register of wills, are elected by more than 50,000 plurality.

In Montgomery and Chester counties, where the fusionists made a strong fight, to elect nine anti-Quay members of the legislature they suffered a severe set back, the regular Republicaus winning by large majorities. Peansylvania's delegation in the next congress will be not less than 24 Republicans to six Democrats as against 20 Republicans and ten Democrats in the present congress.

M. S. Quay's friends are claiming they will have a majority on joint bellot favorable to his re-election to the United States senate and the returns would appear to bear out this

The control of the state senate as between Quay and anti-Quay is in doubt, with chances favoring the Quayites though the complete returns may give the organization of that body to the opponents of Mr. Quay.

THE PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATIVE FIGHT

Interest Centering on the Quay Battle Has Caused a Hot Contest Throughout the State.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Philadelphia, Nov. 6.—Pennsylvania's legislature is composed of fifty senators and 204 members of the house of representatives. The entire membership of the lower house was bel-loted for to-day as was also haif the senate. The other half of the senators hold over for two years more a senator being chosen for a term of four years, one half of the body retiring every two years. This year 26 senators were voted for, the second district (part of Philadelphia) select. ing a senator to fill the unexpired term of Senator Holzwarth, deceased. Otherwise the balloting for senators to-day was confined to the odd numbered districts. The incoming legislature will vote for a United States senator to succeed Matthew S. Quay, whose term expired March 4 last. The last senate consisted of 37 Republicans and 13 Democrats. Of these 12 Republicans and 12 Democrats hold The last house was composed of 127 Republicans, 71 Democrats and

The Republicans therefore had majority of 74 on joint ballot, but owing to the opposition of a number of Republicans to the re-election Mr. Quay a deadlock resulted which continued to the end of the session.

Mr. Quay was the party's caucus eandidate, but as there were at all times three candidates voted for in he great number of ballots taken, Mr vote ranged from 19 to 15 short of the 128 necessary to elect. The main interest in to-day's voting throughout the state centered in the contest for the control of the next egislature. Mr. Quay has declared simself to be a candidate for re-election to the senate and those opposed to him in his own party have fused with the Democrats in a few counties and were successful in some others in of nominating Republicans opposed to

Mr. Quay. The result has been a hot LACKAWANNA COUNTY

mendous majority in New York state and his apparent majority in Illinois were received with wild cheering, while the announcement that Chairman Jones, of the Democratic national committee, claimed Bryan's election without these two states was received with derision. Among the candidates who appeared at different times during the evening were P. A. Philbin, John J. Scheuer, W. R. Lewis, John Copeland, Emil Bonn and Wm. Beck and they were at all times surrounded by throngs of friends and were cheered as they came through the crowd. All seemed hopeful of success but on account of the slowness with which the returns came in'a feeling of uncertainty prevailed

When County Detective Leyshon at 1:20 o'clock read that McKinley had received 284 electoral votes with a possible 300, the crowd went wild with enthusiasm and cheer after cheer went The announcements made from time to time of the leads maintained by Congressman Connell and the other Republican candidates were also enthusiastically received.

There was no let up to the enthusiasm of the crowd nor were there many deflections from its ranks until long after 1:20 o'clock and many remained until after 3 o'clock while the tabulators didn't finish their work till long after. It was conceded by all that it was the most enthusiastic election night seen at Republican headquarters in years.

DEMOCRATIC HEADQUARTERS. No news which was received early in the night was about the only good news the Democrats got and consequently their headquarters in Liberty hall was a rather doleful place.

The front office was entirely deserted, save when a knot of anxious leaders would retire there to rest and exchange hopes of saving something. In the hall, where local returns were being received by 'phone and through committeemen, Chairman J. J. O'Neiil sat over against the farther wall facing the crowd standing about the tables at which the tabulators were working and smiled pleasantly and reassuringly on every one who came in. With him were Editor E. J. Lynett, of the Times; Attorney J. J. O'Malley, who was the candidate for district attorney: Timothy D. Hayes, who looked for legislative honors in the First district; Attorney D. J. Reedy, chairman of the executive committee: Attorney T. P. Duffy, secretary of the county ommittee; John H. WEATHER WAS FINE, VOTING WAS HEAVY

Never in the history of the city has there been a quieter election than that of yesterday; never has there been an election conducted under more delightful climatic conditions and seldom before has such a large percentage of the registered voters of turned out to east their ballots. The day dawned bright and clear and when the polls opened at 7 o'clock there was hardly a cloud in the sky There was just a wee bit of "snap" in the air and old inhabitants looked wise and said they couldn't remember of a pleasanter election day. The weather continued thus all day. Never did Old Sol hide his face for more than a few minutes at a time and there was never a moment when one couldn't have gone without an overcoat and not felt uncomfortable. This is responsible in a large measure for the large vote recorded. It had the effect of bringing out the "stayat-homes" in large numbers.

These are the voters who are always looking for an excuse to prevent them from coming to the polls and if the weather is the least bit disagreeable they generally decide not to come out.

LARGE VOTE POLLED.

The vote polled was extremely large in each and every ward of the city. Especially was this true in strong Republican strongholds like the Ninth, Second and Seventeenth wards, and this fact was especially agreeable news to Republican' workers in those parts of the city.

The largest part of the vote was cast between 7 and 9 o'clock in the morning and between 5.30 and 7 o'clock in the evening. In many of the districts half the total vote was polled before ! o'clock. The fact that all the mines are working caused a big vote in many of the wards after 5 o'clock, the men returning from work stopping to vote before going home, many appearing with their coal-begrimmed hands and

As early as 9.30 o'clock requisitions were made for extra ballot boxes for Republican districts. The Second and Third districts of the Ninth ward made calls for extra boxes before 10 o'clock. In the afternoon similar requisitions were received from the following additional districts: Seventh ward, Second district: Eleventh ward, First district; Fifth ward, Second district; Sixteenth ward, Second district; Phirteenth ward, Second district; Second ward, Second district.

Next to the large vote cast, the most emarkable feature of the election as far as the city goes was the vast amount of splitting done. That few straight tickets were being voted was discernable in many of the districts before & o'clock. When a voter votes a straight ticket, if he is an intelligent voter, he generally spends little time in the booth.

EVIDENCE OF SPLITTING.

Less than a minute and sometimes half a minute generally suffices to mark a ballot with a single cross, the method adopted in voting a straight party ticket. When an intelligentlooking citizen spends two, three or four minutes in the booth its reasonable to assume that he is doing a little cutting on the side, and this is exact ly what scores of intelligent-looking citizens could be seen doing in every part of the city yesterday. Chairman Davis, of the Republican ounty committee, was at headquarters all morning, but started out early in the afternoon for a personal tour of the West Scranton and North Scranton districts, returning to headquarters shortly after 7 o'clock. He was especially pleased at the large vote being polled, and expressed the belief that it augured well for Republican success. In the Second district of the Seventeenth ward there were 132 votes cast at 9 o'clock. This was considered a wonderful record by Alderman John T. Howe, who has been on the election board there for years. The total vote at last fall's election in this district was only 205. At 3 o'clock there had been 280 votes cast. In all the districts of the Ninth ward the vote was also remarkably large. In the Second district there had been 221 votes cast at 3 o'clock, out of an average of 300. While a Tribune reporter was in this booth, which is located or. Adams avenue, near Olive street, a passing street car stopped in front of the door and the motorman jumped off. rushed madly in, grabbed a ballot from the hands of one of the officers and sprang into a booth. He wasn't inside more than ten seconds when he was out again. He deposited his ballot and rushed for his "Well, that's about the first straight ticket voted here today," said Candidate for Jury Commissioner D. J. Campbell, who was in the booth at the time, and the others acquiesced.

In the Eighth ward the vote up to ? o'clock was fairly heavy, and after that time the election officers were pretty thoroughly swamped with voters. The general average in the Second district is about 300 votes, and at 6 o'clock 275 had been cast. In the First district of this ward 165 votes out of an average of 250 had been cast at 2.30 o'clock. The vote in South Scranton was also exceptionally large. In the First district of the Eleventh ward at 4.15 o'clock there had been 260 votes polled, which was said by the election officers to be phenomenal. The Nineteenth ward got out one of the largest votes

IN NORTH SCRANTON. Up in North Scranton one of the largest votes ever recorded was de-posited in the ballot boxes. In the First district of the Second ward at 5.45 there were 214 cast out of an average of 225 and the room was full of voters waiting their turn. In the First district of the First ward at 6 o'clock there were 276 ballots cast out of a general average of 300. In the ward the vote was also very The record for quick voting must be accorded the Second district of the Thirteenth ward, where there were 77 votes cast up to 8 o'clock. This is an average of over one a minute and indicated that very little cutting was being done and that the citizens were iving up to their record and voting the straight Republican ticket. In the Tenth ward nearly 300 of an average of 400 votes had been cast at 3.30 clock and they were still coming in. To give their employes ample time o vote yesterday the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company closed heir car repairing and machine shops at noon. The mines were worked on an eight-hour shift and arrangements were also made whereby the railroad men were given an opportunity to cast their ballots at their homes all along the line. The Delaware and Hudson mines were worked a half day. The Scranton nut and bolt works suspended operations at 4 p. m. and the North Steel mills were idle in conequence of election. The Dickson Manufacturing company and locomo tive shops were closed at noon, and the office forces were relieved early in the afternoon in order to vote. The employes of many other smaller

A Household Necessity

The Piano is no longer an article of luxury, designed exclusively for the professional musician or the rich of musical taste, or purchased as a parlor ornament, to be kept sacredly locked, except on the occasion of some family festivity.

It Has Become a Household Necessity.

THOUSANDS WATCHED

The Mecca of seekers for election news was, as usual, The Tribune buildng. Owing to the absolute necessity of having no disturbance to the workers in the editorial rooms, the public had to be excluded, but extensive and expensive arrangements were made to provide that no one should be excluded rom the news.

Diagonally across the sidewalk, just to the south of The Tribune building, a large canvas was supported by a tall scaffold and on this canvas the returns were shown with the aid of a powerful stereopticon as fast as they vere received. The news from the county was for warded to the office with all possible dispatch by a corps of reporters, covering every district, no matter how remote, and working under instructions to spare no labor or expense in getting the returns to The Tribune at the earliest possible moment. The news from abroad came by The Tribune's exclusive Associated Press wire to the editorial rooms, and this was supplemented by a special bulleting service from the Western Union, over wire reaching to the office of the business manager on the second floor. As early as 7 o'clock the crowd commenced to gather at the intersection of Washington avenue and Linden street where the best view of the canvas could be had. By 8 o'clock there were three thousand assembled, and as the night grew apace the numbers steadily increased until fully 10,000 persons were at one time comprosing the anxious,

cheering crowd gazing at the bulletins.
